

Greetings from Ullman Dynamics,

I would like to introduce our newest Ullman family member, CWO5 (ret) Ron Carpenter. He has assumed the role as our U.S. market managing director. He hails from Chicago, Illinois and has spent 32 years in the United States Navy with 28 years in Special Operations Naval Special Warfare Special Boat Teams where he operated high speed coastal and riverine craft in support of U.S. Navy Seals and Special Forces. He is a subject matter expert in coastal and riverine operations and possesses extensive knowledge in life cycle sustainment. He is an advocate for protecting the highspeed boat operator and provides complimentary design and engineering support for console design and seat layout for all types of craft. Ullman Dynamics seats have never had a failure, they require zero maintenance, and reduce fatigue and injury to the operators. Ron looks forward to meeting you at the IBEX show to provide more details about our cutting-edge technology.

Kindest Regards,
Carl Magnus Ullman
President
