Love Your Boating Ladder:

Say Bye-Bye to your old boat ladder and step onto a new Beautiful Ladder.
BeautifulLadders.com

ALL Boats/vessels need a ladder. Boating ladders to date have not been easy to climb or even comfortable on your bare feet nor your upper body. It can be very challenging to get your body weight up that skinny hard ladder without saying ouch or geez, I hope I don't fall off this thing today.

While we play at the sandbars or at our local lakes and beaches, we all use the boat ladder unless you are totally afraid, which some folks are terrified. There are people who have foot and ankle injuries and others who have put a few pounds on, like myself who are somewhat fearful of getting hurt and or even having a fear of falling off.

Most boating ladders don't even have a handle bar to hold onto. Just small hard surface steps. So, you are supposed to have acrobat talents hold your balance and walk the tight rope until you get inside the boat from the water. Huh! Not Cool...

Let's all pray we make it into the boat. I say this each time I have climbed a boat ladder. It should NOT be this way! AND IT WON'T ANY LONGER.
